

A look back at 2022 and a fresh start into 2023

The entire SEGALEN+ASSOCIÉS team wishes you a very successful 2023. We are happy to share our greatest achievements of the past year and our ambitions for the months to come.

2023... Our best resolutions

The coming year invites us to maintain the course of excellence, while setting ourselves new ambitions:

- create inspiring connections between companies and talents internationally by being the trusted partner for our clients and candidates
- rigorously promote gender parity in companies, with the aim of achieving equity
- accompany our clients in the major transformations they face (digitalisation, CSR, impact and inclusion...)
- affirm our expertise in leadership services for executives and boards of directors (assessment, audits, mappings, compensation studies, etc.)

Last year

March 2022: A new graphic design to highlight our new partners

The year 2022 marked a new milestone in the history of SEGALEN+ASSOCIÉS, which celebrated its 10th anniversary and the expansion of the partnership growing from 3 to 6 Partners. We adopted a new visual identity and a new website, to better illustrate the values of knowledge transmission and teamwork - the DNA of our firm - and our strong commitment to excellence, creativity, rigor, and loyalty.

May 2022: The new faces of the Executive Committees: focus on governance

Our assignments with senior executives gave us the opportunity to closely observe and analyse the profound changes that are shaking up corporate governance. CEOs, CHROs, CFOs, we have placed these key managers under the microscope, conducting a study to decrypt the new faces of the Executive Committees. This work was presented to the press in May and received a positive echo in the French media (Les Echos, Le Figaro, L'Agefi, L'Usine Nouvelle, Le Monde, Challenges, etc.)

November 2022: The excellence of our firm is once again rewarded with 5 stars by the Palmarès Les Echos and Statista

The work achieved throughout the year for our clients and candidates has once again been rewarded. We are proud to be ranked among the best recruitment firms in France and in Europe for another consecutive year, according to the latest ranking by Les Echos Leadership & Management and Statista 5 stars.
